FOR ACADEMIC STUDY ONLY

Religion and the Making of Modern East Asia Thomas David DuBois,2011-04-18 Religious ideas and actors have shaped Asian cultural practices for millennia and have played a decisive role in charting the course of its history In this engaging and informative book Thomas David DuBois sets out to explain how religion has influenced the political social and economic transformation of Asia from the fourteenth century to the present Crossing a broad terrain from Tokyo to Tibet the book highlights long term trends and key moments such as the expulsion of Catholic missionaries from Japan or the Taiping Rebellion in China when religion dramatically transformed the political fate of a nation Contemporary chapters reflect on the wartime deification of the Japanese emperor Marxism as religion the persecution of the Dalai Lama and the fate of Asian religion in a globalized world Japan in the Age of Globalization Carin Holroyd, Ken Coates, 2012-06-12 The multiple and diverse forces of globalization have indeed affected Japan significantly over the past decades But so it must be said has Japan influenced a variety of critical global developments globalization is not a one way street particularly for a nation as economically influential and technologically advanced as Japan The chapters in this collection examine the impact of globalization on Japan and the impact of Japan on the forces of globalization from the various disciplinary perspectives of business the economy politics technology culture and society They also explain the manner in which the nation has responded to the economic and cultural liberalization that has been such a profound force for change around the globe This comprehensive collected works brings the latest research to bear on this important subject and provides evidence of the long history of global influences on Japan and Japanese impacts on the rest of the world This book will be of interest to students and scholars of globalization Japanese Studies and Asian Studies

Foundations of Culture Harald Haarmann, 2007 Constructing culture means constructing knowledge and making it operational for the benefit of sustained community life As a cognitive process knowledge construction does not evolve in a vacuum but rather interacts with belief systems and worldview Cultural knowledge is modulated by key factors such as time linear versus non linear conceptions of reality physical imagined virtual identity and intentionality The critical investigation and comparison of cultures in space and time call for a revision of several concepts These include utility as the maxim of modern Euro American society prototype as an allegedly unified concept of culture evolution and replacement as a generalizing signifier for the exchange of old items for new ones The working of cultural memory is understood as the storage capacity of items of knowledge relating to the past present and future according to parameters of experienced rather than absolute time This study discusses a wide selection of the variables shaping the foundations and fabric of culture starting with the human capacities for symbol making and using sign systems The impact of knowledge construction on the culture process is articulated in 30 postulates concerning the dynamics of communal life and patterns of sustenance the relationship between the natural environment and cultural space and the life cycle of cultures
