Predictive Policing and Artificial Intelligence John McDaniel, Ken Pease, 2021-02-25 This edited text draws together the insights of numerous worldwide eminent academics to evaluate the condition of predictive policing and artificial intelligence AI as interlocked policy areas Predictive and AI technologies are growing in prominence and at an unprecedented rate Powerful digital crime mapping tools are being used to identify crime hotspots in real time as pattern matching and search algorithms are sorting through huge police databases populated by growing volumes of data in an effort to identify people liable to experience or commit crime places likely to host it and variables associated with its solvability Facial and vehicle recognition cameras are locating criminals as they move while police services develop strategies informed by machine learning and other kinds of predictive analytics Many of these innovations are features of modern policing in the UK the US and Australia among other jurisdictions AI promises to reduce unnecessary labour speed up various forms of police work encourage police forces to more efficiently apportion their resources and enable police officers to prevent crime and protect people from a variety of future harms However the promises of predictive and AI technologies and innovations do not always match reality They often have significant weaknesses come at a considerable cost and require challenging trade offs to be made Focusing on the UK the US and Australia this book explores themes of choice architecture decision making human rights accountability and the rule of law as well as future uses of AI and predictive technologies in various policing contexts The text contributes to ongoing debates on the benefits and biases of predictive algorithms big data sets machine learning systems and broader policing strategies and challenges Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of policing criminology crime science sociology computer science cognitive psychology and all those interested in the emergence of AI as a feature of contemporary policing

Moral Issues in Intelligence-led Policing Helene Gundhus, Kira Rønn, Nick Fyfe, 2017-09-27 The core baseline of Intelligence led Policing is the aim of increasing efficiency and quality of police work with a focus on crime analysis and intelligence methods as tools for informed and objective decisions both when conducting targeted specialized operations and when setting strategic priorities This book critically addresses the proliferation of intelligence logics within policing from a wide array of scholarly perspectives It considers questions such as How are precautionary logics becoming increasingly central in the dominant policing strategies What kind of challenges will this move entail What does the criminalization of preparatory acts mean for previous distinctions between crime prevention and crime detection What are the predominant rationales behind the proactive use of covert cohesive measures in order to prevent attacks on national security How are new technological measures increased private partnerships and international cooperation challenging the core nature of police services as the main providers of public safety and security This book offers new insights by exploring dilemmas legal issues and questions raised by the use of new policing methods and the blurred and confrontational lines that can be observed between prevention intelligence and investigation in police work

Behavioural Skills for Effective Policing Mark Kilgallon, Martin Wright, 2022-02-14 Behavioural skills are essential to effective policing practice and professional development and are also embedded within the policing competency frameworks As the police service looks to further redefine its role in the twenty first century this critical handbook covers the full range of these proficiencies from building rapport applying emotional intelligence building empathy and resilience to diversity and difference understanding ethics and developing coaching and leadership skills Each chapter is written by a distinguished serving or former senior police leader and or policing scholar bringing together a wealth of experience and understanding and applying this knowledge in context through key case studies and examples Suitable for serving police officers at all levels as well as policing lecturers and students aspiring to join the police this book encourages and enables a people centred approach to policing that balances the debate that has given disproportionate credence to transactional skills at the expense of a more transformational approach

Policing the Global South Danielle Watson, Sara N. Amin, Wendell C. Wallace, Oluwagbenga (Michael) Akinlabi, Juan Carlos Ruiz-Vásquez, 2022-11-11 Policing the Global South provides scholarship which further transnationalises and democratises ideas about policing practices and philosophies highlighting renovations in approaches to policing studies and injecting innovative perspectives into the study of policing from scholars positioned on the periphery Criminological knowledge depolarisation underscores a conscious effort by scholars from the Global South to increase intellectual knowledge focused on developing context specific responses to issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to the non Northern context Such shifts draw attention to the expanse of spaces beyond Northern centres rife with challenges unlike any specific to those experienced or conceptualised by scholars from the Global North with an applied Northern criminological lens Applying a postcolonial lens to empirical knowledge from country specific cases in former colonies in Africa Asia the Caribbean the Pacific and Latin America this book examines how policing issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to non Northern contexts are addressed The primary purpose is to share innovations in the field of policing service provision threats to security crime responses justice and international trends developed in postcolonial developing country contexts Given the aim of the book and the contributors own research on issues of policing across the globe it discusses themes including but not limited to the colonial legacies and their impact on policing how plural regulatory systems and partnerships are navigated by the police the linkages between access to justice community perceptions and police legitimacy innovations and challenges in organisational reform crime prevention and community partnerships and the expanding roles of police organisations in the Global South While each chapter presents a policing issue in a country within a specific part of the Global South the book highlights how important it is to frame responses based on contextual realities informed by an awareness of the past and present with a goal of informing the future Delivering a much needed introduction to those specialising in policing in developing countries this book is invaluable reading for academics and students of criminology criminal justice governance policy and IR as well as professionals in policing organizations across the globe

Crime in Europe Martin Farrell, Frances Heidensohn, 2002-11-01 While some European nations share similar crime rates and trends many differ widely in their approach to criminal justice And as Europe

s internal frontiers prepare to give way to a single market issues such as the movement of terrorists international fraud and drug trafficking take on new significant dimensions This is the first book to address these issues and attempt a comparative criminology for Europe The contributors cover a range of subjects including crime prevention women and crime the relationship of ethnic minorities to crime and the police corporate crime accountability in the prison system

Transforming Summary Justice Jenni Ward, 2016-11-10 Sweeping changes are being introduced into the lower tier magistrates courts in England and Wales in efforts to modernise the system and speed up case processing They concentrate on delivering prompt justice within a modern efficient and technologically advanced system But these transformations are fundamentally changing the way justice is delivered This book analyses criminal court streamlining processes and argues that there are areas where due process protections are being undermined Transforming Summary Justice reports empirical research carried out with lay magistrates and criminal justice professionals Views and experiences drawn from magistrates are valuable because of the central role they perform in lower court justice Further magistrates provide a wider understanding of the context in which the lower criminal courts operate and enable a critical appraisal of this unique style of lay justice This book is directed at students of criminology criminal justice and socio legal studies who will find the debates stimulating and useful to engage with in contemporary analyses of criminal court justice It will also be of interest to justice and legal professionals who are seeing swingeing alterations to the field in which they work The book will have appeal in other common law jurisdictions where similar modifications to lower court justice are occurring and also across Europe where lay involvement in legal decision making is being debated and becoming accepted practice

Policing Hate Crime Gail Mason, Jane Maree Maher, Jude McCulloch, Sharon Pickering, Rebecca Wickes, Carolyn McKay, 2017-03-16 In a contemporary setting of increasing social division and marginalisation Policing Hate Crime interrogates the complexities of prejudice motivated crime and effective policing practices Hate crime has become a barometer for contemporary police relations with vulnerable and marginalised communities But how do police effectively lead conversations with such communities about problems arising from prejudice Contemporary police are expected to be active agents in the pursuit of social justice and human rights by stamping out prejudice and group based animosity At the same time police have been criticised in over policing targeted communities as potential perpetrators as well as under policing these same communities as victims of crime Despite this history the demand for impartial law enforcement requires police to change their engagement with targeted communities and kindle trust as priorities in strengthening their response to hate crime Drawing upon a research partnership between police and academics this book entwines current law enforcement responses with key debates on the meaning of hate crime to explore the potential for misunderstandings of hate crime between police and communities and illuminates ways to overcome communication difficulties This book will be important reading for students taking courses in hate crime as well as victimology policing and crime and community

Contemporary Issues in Global

Criminal Justice Ed Johnston, Sophie Marsh, 2022-08-22 Contemporary Issues in Global Criminal Justice provides a holistic analysis of modern criminal justice issues encompassing the pre trial investigative and post conviction stages of criminal justice in legal settings across the world The contributors acknowledge and examine the vast array of challenges in global criminal justice from the role of the International Criminal Court to policing the integration of technology and how marginalized groups such as sex workers and those with addictions are treated in the courts With contributions from scholars in England and Wales New Zealand Croatia Spain the Netherlands Canada and The Republic of North Macedonia this book is not limited to one jurisdiction and highlights that criminal justice is very much a global issue in a state of crisis From policing to the courts it is in urgent need of reform Without a competent criminal justice system justice does not exist This book would be of interest to scholars in the legal criminal justice and criminology fields Global Policing Ben

Bowling, James Sheptycki, 2011-12-16 In the transitional networked society police power is no longer constrained by the borders of the nation state It has globalised Global Policing shows how security threats have been constructed by powerful actors to justify the creation of a new global policing architecture and how the subculture of policing shapes the world system Demonstrating how a theory of global policing is central to understanding global governance the text explores the new security agenda focused on serious organised crime and terrorism and how this is transforming policing the creation of global organisations such as Interpol regional entities such as Europol and national policing agencies with a transnational reach the subculture of the global cops blurring boundaries between police private security military and secret intelligence agencies the reality of transnational policing on the ground its effectiveness legitimacy accountability and future development Written by two leading international experts who bring cutting edge theoretical debates to life with case studies and examples Global Policing will prove captivating reading for students and scholars in criminology criminal justice international relations law and sociology Prisoner Radicalization and Terrorism Detention Policy Tinka M.

Veldhuis, 2016-05-20 Correctional policies for Islamist violent extremist offenders are often based on the premise that prisons can be hotbeds of radicalization The perception that inmates are susceptible to violent extremist belief systems has given rise to a fervent international public political and scholarly debate and has led to the introduction of drastic often expensive policies to counter the threat of prison radicalization But is the introduction of these policies justified A key question is whether violent extremist offenders should be concentrated in separate high security prisons or whether they should be integrated into the mainstream inmate population Prisoner Radicalization and Terrorism Detention Policy argues that concentration strategies to manage violent extremist offenders are often flawed based on untested potentially false assumptions that are rooted in fear rather than in facts Little academic evidence has been produced that can valuably inform policy making in this area As a result policies to detain violent extremist offenders may be inadequately tailored to achieve their objectives and could even lead to an intensification of the violent extremist threat This book is the first to present a detailed and systematic case study of the decision making and implementation process behind terrorism detention policy It will be essential reading for students scholars and policymakers researching criminal justice terrorism and extremism A

Criminology of Policing and Security Frontiers Lippert, Randy, Walby, Kevin, 2019-02-20 Policing and security provision are subjects central to criminology Yet there are newer and neglected forms that are currently unscrutinised By examining the work of community safety officers ambassador patrols conservation officers and private police foundations who operate on and are animated by a frontier this book reveals why criminological inquiry must reach beyond traditional conceptual and methodological boundaries in the 21st century Including novel case studies this multi disciplinary and international book assembles a rich collection of policy and security frontiers both geographical e g the margins of cities and conceptual dispersion and credentialism not seen or acknowledged previously Fundamental Rights Challenges in Border

Controls and Expulsion of Irregular Immigrants in the European Union Sergio Carrera, Marco Stefan, 2020-02-25 This edited volume examines the extent to which the various authorities and actors currently performing border management and expulsion related tasks are subject to accountability mechanisms capable of delivering effective remedies and justice for abuses suffered by migrants and asylum seekers Member states of the European Union and State Parties to the Council of Europe are under the obligation to establish complaint mechanisms allowing immigrants and or asylum seekers to seek effective remedies in cases where their rights are violated This book sheds light on the complaint bodies and procedures existing and available in Austria Greece Hungary Italy Spain Poland and Romania It assesses their role in overseeing investigating and redressing cases of human rights violations deriving from violent border and immigration management practices and expedited expulsion procedures This book therefore provides an assessment of the practical legal and procedural challenges that affect the possibility to lodge complaints and access remedies for human rights violations suffered at the hands of the law enforcement authorities and other security actors operating at land air and sea borders or participating in expulsions procedures in particular joint return flights The volume will be of key interest to students scholars and practitioners working on human rights migration and borders international law European law and security studies EU politics and more broadly international relations Restorative Policing Kerry Clamp, Craig Paterson, 2016-10-04 In the UK and elsewhere restorative justice and policing are core components of a range of university programmes however currently no such text exists on the intersection of these two areas of study This book draws together these diverse theoretical perspectives to provide an innovative knowledge rich text that is essential reading for all those engaged with the evolution and practice of restorative policing Restorative Policing surveys the twenty five year history of restorative policing practice during which its use and influence over criminal justice has slowly grown It then situates this experience within a criminological discussion about neo liberal responses to crime control There has been insufficient debate about how the concepts of restorative justice and policing sit alongside each other and how they may be connected or disconnected in theoretical and conceptual terms The book seeks to fill this gap through an exploration of concepts theory policy and practice In doing so the authors make a case for a more transformative vision of restorative policing that can impact positively upon the shape and practice of policing and outline a framework for the implementation of such a strategy This pathbreaking book will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students taking courses on restorative justice policing and crime control as well as professionals interested in the implementation of restorative practices in the police force The Routledge Handbook of Ethics and Public Policy Annabelle Lever, Andrei Poama, 2018-10-26 What does it mean to do public policy ethics today How should philosophers engage with ethical issues in policy making when policy decisions are circumscribed by political and pragmatic concerns How do ethical issues in public policy differ between areas such as foreign policy criminal justice or environmental policy The Routledge Handbook of Ethics and Public Policy addresses all these questions and more and is the first handbook of its kind It is comprised of 41 chapters written by leading international contributors and is organised into four clear sections covering the following key topics Methodology philosophical approaches to public policy ethical expertise knowledge and public policy Democracy and public policy identity integration and inclusion voting linguistic policy discrimination youth policy religious toleration and the family Public goods defence and foreign policy development and climate change surveillance and internal security ethics of welfare healthcare and fair trade sovereignty and territorial boundaries and the ethics of nudging Public policy challenges criminal justice policing taxation poverty disability reparation and ethics of death policies The Routledge Handbook of Ethics and Public Policy is essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy politics and social policy It will be equally useful to those in related disciplines such as economics and law or professional fields such as business administration or policy making in general

The Politics of the Police Benjamin Bowling, Robert Reiner, James W. E. Sheptycki, 2019 The Politics of the Police offers a geographical and historical overview of the law and politics of the police This fifth edition covers a wider range of empirical and theoretical issues encompassing a transnational scope and reflecting the growing diversity of policing forms in today's globalized world The Routledge Handbook of International Crime and Justice Studies Bruce Arrigo, Heather Bersot, 2013-08-15 The Routledge Handbook of International Crime and Justice Studies presents the enduring debates and emerging challenges in crime and justice studies from an international and multi disciplinary perspective Guided by the pivotal although vastly under examined role that consumerism politics technology and culture assume in shaping these debates and in organizing these challenges individual chapters probe the global landscape of crime and justice with astonishing clarity and remarkable depth A distinguished collection of experts examine the interdisciplinary field of international crime and justice Their contributions are divided into thematic sections including theory culture and society industries of crime and justice systems of policing law corrections and punishment the criminal enterprise global technologies media crime and culture green criminology political violence public health criminology the political economy of crime and justice All the chapters include full pedagogy and instructional resources for easy referencing or classroom use This Handbook will be useful for students scholars and practitioners of law medicine history economics sociology politics philosophy education public health and social policy
