The Cigarette Century Allan M. Brandt,2009-01-06 The invention of mass marketing led to cigarettes being emblazoned in advertising and film deeply tied to modern notions of glamour and sex appeal It is hard to find a photo of Humphrey Bogart or Lauren Bacall without a cigarette No product has been so heavily promoted or has become so deeply entrenched in American consciousness And no product has received such sustained scientific scrutiny The development of new medical knowledge demonstrating the dire harms of smoking ultimately shaped the evolution of evidence based medicine In response the tobacco industry engineered a campaign of scientific disinformation seeking to delay disrupt and suppress these studies Using a massive archive of previously secret documents historian Allan Brandt shows how the industry pioneered these campaigns particularly using special interest lobbying and largesse to elude regulation But even as the cultural dominance of the cigarette has waned and consumption has fallen dramatically in the U S Big Tobacco remains securely positioned to expand into new global markets The implications for the future are vast 100 million people died of smoking related diseases in the 20th century in the next 100 years we expect 1 billion deaths worldwide
