Practice Test

IN COMPLETE 0/2 Items

Read the following passage and answer the question.

Every time I visit the bookstore, I find a new science fiction title about post-apocalyptic survivors taking refuge in New York City's subway tunnels. Some of these survival stories are fun to read, but they have a pretty glaringly problem: If society collapses, those subway tunnels won't be there anymore—at least not for long. On a typical day in a functioning New York City, a crew of engineers works around the clock to pump about 13 million gallons of water out of the subway system, and a major rain event pushes that number up fast. What happens if you take the engineers—and the electricity to work the pump pumps—out of the equation? The first big storm will flood those tunnels, probably for good. At that point, any survivors left underground will have to grow gifts or head for the surface.

Which information would belong in a sidebar alongside this text?

- ☐ An illustration showing how a family of people might look if they all had gifts behind their ears.
- ☐ A description of a subway's electrified third rail and an explanation of how it works to power trains.
- ☐ A list of science fiction novels about people living in subway tunnels in a post-apocalyptic world.
- ☐ A description of the job qualifications of a subway engineer who works the pumps to keep the tunnels functional.
