The (old) Farmer's Almanack Robert Bailey Thomas,1996 Warnings Michael Smith, Mike Smith,2010 From the heart of tornado alley Smith takes us into the eye of America s most devastating storms and behind the scenes of some of the world s most renowned scientific institutions to uncover the relationship between mankind and the weather A Failure of Initiative United States. Congress. House. Select Bipartisan Committee to Investigate the Preparation for and Response to Hurricane Katrina,2006 Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin ,2001 Dangerous Women, Libertine Epicures, and the Rise of Sensibility, 1670-1730 Dr Laura Linker,2013-05-28 In the first full length study of the figure of the female libertine in late seventeenth and early eighteenth century literature Laura Linker examines heroines appearing in literature by John Dryden Aphra Behn Catharine Trotter Delariviere Manley and Daniel Defoe Linker argues that this figure partially inspired by Epicurean ideas found in Lucretius s De rerum natura interrogates gender roles and assumptions and emerges as a source of considerable tension during the late Stuart and early Georgian periods Witty and rebellious the female libertine becomes a frequent satiric target because of her transgressive sexuality As a result of negative portrayals of lady libertines women writers begin to associate their libertine heroines with the pathos figures they read in French texts of sensibilit Beginning with a discussion of Charles II s mistresses Linker shows that these women continue to serve as models for the female libertine in literature long after their reigns at court ended Her study places the female libertine within her cultural philosophical and literary contexts and suggests new ways of considering women s participation and the early novel which prominently features female libertines as heroines of sensibility Air Quality Forecasting ,2001 Water and Energy Gustaf Olsson,2012-06-19 Water and Energy Threats and Opportunities creates an awareness of the important couplings between water and energy It shows how energy is used in all the various water cycle operations and demonstrates how water is used and misused in all kinds of energy production and generation Population increase climate change and an increasing competition between food and fuel production create enormous pressures on both water and energy availability Since there is no replacement for water water security looks more crucial than energy security This is true not only in developing countries but also in the most advanced countries The western parts of the USA suffer from water scarcity that provides a real security threat The book does not aim to show how to design or to solve some of the very intricate conflicts between water and energy Instead it systematically lists ideas possibilities and a number of results There are a few more technical chapters that act as entry points to more detailed technical literature Part One of the book describes the water energy nexus the conflicts and competitions and the couplings between water security energy security and food security Part Two captures how climate change population increase and the growing food demand will have major impact on water availability in many countries in the world Part Three describes water for energy and how energy production and conversion depend on water availability As a consequence all planning has to take both water and energy into consideration The environmental including water consequences of oil and coal exploration and refining are huge in North America as well as in the rest of the world Furthermore oil leak accidents have hit America Africa Europe as well as Asia The consequences of hydropower are discussed and the competition between hydropower generation flood control and water storage is illustrated The importance of water for cooling thermal power plants is described as this was so tragically demonstrated at the Fukushima nuclear plants in 2011 Climate change will further emphasize the strong coupling between water availability and the operation of power plants Part Four analyses energy for water how water production and treatment depend on energy The book shows that a lot can be done to improve equipment develop processes and apply advanced monitoring and control to save energy for water operations Significant amounts of energy can be saved by better pumping the reduction of leakages controlled aeration in biological wastewater treatment more efficient biogas production and by improved desalination processes The water energy issue is not only about technology It is our attitudes and our lifestyle that can significantly influence the consumption of both water and energy We all have to be reminded that water is energy and energy is water The book is aimed at various kinds of readers The politician and decision maker providing a holistic view The engineer who wishes to find out about the key issues and to understand the strong driving forces from the increasing population climate change and the food supply in the world The student who wishes to get an overview of future challenges and new possibilities The planner water and energy have to be planned together The designer of a water and wastewater system how does energy come in The operator of a water or a wastewater treatment plant what are the possibilities to make the system more efficient The wastewater treatment manager what are the possibilities to save and recover energy in a wastewater treatment plant The researcher looking for connections between different specialities What kind of cross disciplinary research would be needed The power and energy professional mostly the water issue is forgotten until there is water scarcity The water professional it is not only a matter of operating water systems efficiently Water professionals have to be much more engaged in the water quantity and water quality implications of energy generation It is too late to attack the problems by developing methods for the treatment of contaminated water The water consumption and the water pollution simply have to be closely watched already at the energy production phase About the author Gustaf Olsson Professor Em in Industrial Automation Lund University Sweden Since 2006 Gustaf is professor emeritus at Lund University Sweden Gustaf has devoted his research to control and automation in water systems electrical power systems and process industries From 2006 to 2008 he was part time professor in electrical power systems at Chalmers University of Technology Sweden Since 2006 he has been guest professor at the Technical University of Malaysia UTM and at the Tsinghua University in Beijing China about one month per year at each university He is an honorary faculty member of the Exeter University in UK Gustaf has served in various positions within IWA the International Water Association Between 2005 and 2010 he was the editor in chief of the journals Water Science and Technology and Water Science and Technology Water Supply From 2007 to 2010 he has been a member of the IWA Board of

The Climate Chronicles Joe Bastardi, 2018 Bastardi's love for the weather and climate drove him to write The Climate Chronicles an expose of the true climate change agenda By drawing on many of the over 150 blogs and articles he has written on the matter he shows how weather and climate are being weaponized politicized and in reality distorted by academia media and even religious leaders to advance a cause that is counter to our nation's best interests A must read for anyone that loves weather and climate and the freedoms that are being attacked in our country today and is curious enough to question what they are being told

Miriam J. Metzger, Andrew J. Flanagin, 2008 The difficulties in determining the quality of information on the Internet in particular the implications of wide access and questionable credibility for youth and learning Today we have access to an almost inconceivably vast amount of information from sources that are increasingly portable accessible and interactive The Internet and the explosion of digital media content have made more information available from more sources to more people than at any other time in human history This brings an infinite number of opportunities for learning social connection and entertainment But at the same time the origin of information its quality and its veracity are often difficult to assess This volume addresses the issue of credibility the objective and subjective components that make information believable in the contemporary media environment The contributors look particularly at youth audiences and experiences considering the implications of wide access and the questionable credibility of information for youth and learning They discuss such topics as the credibility of health information online how to teach credibility assessment and public policy solutions Much research has been done on credibility and new media but little of it focuses on users younger than college students Digital Media Youth and Credibility fills this gap in the literature Contributors Matthew S Eastin Gunther Eysenbach Brian Hilligoss Frances Jacobson Harris R David Lankes Soo Young Rieh S Shyam Sundar Fred W Weingarten

The Democratization of Artificial

Intelligence Andreas Sudmann, 2019-10-31 After a long time of neglect Artificial Intelligence is once again at the center of most of our political economic and socio cultural debates Recent advances in the field of Artificial Neural Networks have led to a renaissance of dystopian and utopian speculations on an AI rendered future Algorithmic technologies are deployed for identifying potential terrorists through vast surveillance networks for producing sentencing guidelines and recidivism risk profiles in criminal justice systems for demographic and psychographic targeting of bodies for advertising or propaganda and more generally for automating the analysis of language text and images Against this background the aim of this book is to discuss the heterogeneous conditions implications and effects of modern AI and Internet technologies in terms of their political dimension What does it mean to critically investigate efforts of net politics in the age of machine learning algorithms
