Indonesia Edimon Ginting, Christopher Manning, Kiyoshi Taniguchi, 2018-02-01 The book focuses on Indonesia's most pressing labor market challenges and associated policy options to achieve higher and more inclusive economic growth The challenges consist of creating jobs for and the skills in a youthful and increasingly better educated workforce and raising the productivity of less educated workers to meet the demands of the digital age The book deals with a range of interrelated topics the changing supply and demand for labor in relation to the shift of workers out of agriculture urbanization and the growth of megacities raising the quality of schooling for new jobs in the digital economy and labor market policies to improve both labor standards and productivity Indigenous Data Sovereignty Tahu Kukutai, John Taylor, 2016-11-14 As the global data revolution accelerates how can the data rights and interests of indigenous peoples be secured Premised on the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples this book argues that indigenous peoples have inherent and inalienable rights relating to the collection ownership and application of data about them and about their lifeways and territories As the first book to focus on indigenous data sovereignty it asks what does data sovereignty mean for indigenous peoples and how is it being used in their pursuit of self determination The varied group of mostly indigenous contributors theorise and conceptualise this fast emerging field and present case studies that illustrate the challenges and opportunities involved These range from indigenous communities grappling with issues of identity governance and development to national governments and NGOs seeking to formulate a response to indigenous demands for data ownership While the book is focused on the CANZUS states of Canada Australia Aotearoa New Zealand and the United States much of the content and discussion will be of interest and practical value to a broader global audience A debate shaping book it speaks to a fast emerging field it has a lot of important things to say and the timing is right Stephen Cornell Professor of Sociology and Faculty Chair of the Native Nations Institute University of Arizona The effort in this book to theorise and conceptualise data sovereignty and its links to the realisation of the rights of indigenous peoples is pioneering and laudable Victoria Tauli Corpuz UN Special Rapporteur on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples Baguio City Philippines Sacred Natural Sites Bas Verschuuren, Jeffrey McNeely, Gonzalo Oviedo, Robert Wild, 2012-06-25 Sacred Natural Sites are the world's oldest protected places This book focuses on a wide spread of both iconic and lesser known examples such as sacred groves of the Western Ghats India Sagarmatha Chomolongma Mt Everest Nepal Tibet and China the Golden Mountains of Altai Russia Holy Island of Lindisfarne UK and the sacred lakes of the Niger Delta Nigeria The book illustrates that sacred natural sites although often under threat exist within and outside formally recognised protected areas heritage sites Sacred natural sites may well be some of the last strongholds for building resilient networks of connected landscapes They also form important nodes for maintaining a dynamic socio cultural fabric in the face of global change The diverse authors bridge the gap between approaches to the conservation of cultural and biological diversity by taking into account cultural and spiritual values together with the socio economic interests of the custodian communities and other relevant stakeholders

Brand New Justice Simon Anholt, 2006-08-11 Recently vilified as the prime dynamic driving home the breach between poor and rich nations here the branding process is rehabilitated as a potential saviour of the economically underprivileged Brand New Justice now in a revised paperback edition systematically analyses the success stories of the Top Thirteen nations demonstrating that their wealth is based on the last mile of the commercial process buying raw materials and manufacturing cheaply in third world countries these countries realise their lucrative profits by adding value through finishing packaging and marketing and then selling the branded product on to the end user at a hugely inflated price The use of sophisticated global media techniques alongside a range of creative marketing activities are the lynchpins of this process Applying his observations on economic history and the development and impact of global marketing Anholt presents a cogent plan for developing nations to benefit from globalization So long the helpless victim of capitalist trading systems he shows that they can cross the divide and graduate from supplier nation to producer nation Branding native produce on a global scale making a commercial virtue out of perceived authenticity and otherness and fully capitalising on the last mile benefits are key to this graduation and fundamental to forging a new global economic balance Anholt argues with a forceful logic but also backs his hypothesis with enticing glimpses of this process actually beginning to take place Examining activities in India Thailand Russia and Africa among others he shows the risks challenges and pressures inherent in turning the tide but above all he demonstrates the very real possibility of enlightened capitalism working as a force for good in global terms
