The Armed Forces Officer Richard Moody Swain,Albert C. Pierce,2017 In 1950 when he commissioned the first edition of The Armed Forces Officer Secretary of Defense George C Marshall told its author S L A Marshall that American military officers of whatever service should share common ground ethically and morally In this new edition the authors methodically explore that common ground reflecting on the basics of the Profession of Arms and the officer s special place and distinctive obligations within that profession and especially to the Constitution

The Performance Economy W. Stahel,2010-02-24 This updated and revised edition outlines strategies and models for how to use technology and knowledge to improve performance create jobs and increase income It shows what skills will be required to produce sell and manage performance over time and how manual jobs can contribute to reduce the consumption of non renewable resources

Crime, Shame and Reintegration John Braithwaite,1989-03-23 Crime Shame and Reintegration is a contribution to general criminological theory Its approach is as relevant to professional burglary as to episodic delinquency or white collar crime Braithwaite argues that some societies have higher crime rates than others because of their different processes of shaming wrongdoing Shaming can be counterproductive making crime problems worse But when shaming is done within a cultural context of respect for the offender it can be an extraordinarily powerful efficient and just form of social control Braithwaite identifies the social conditions for such successful shaming If his theory is right radically different criminal justice policies are needed a shift away from punitive social control toward greater emphasis on moralizing social control This book will be of interest not only to criminologists and sociologists but to those in law public administration and politics who are concerned with social policy and social issues

International Standard Classification of Occupations International Labour Office,2012 The International Standard Classification of Occupations 2008 ISCO 08 is a four level hierarchically structured classification that covers all jobs in the world Developed with the benefit of accumulated national and international experience as well as the help of experts from many countries and agencies ISCO 08 is fully supported by the international community as an accepted standard for international labour statistics ISCO 08 classifies jobs into 436 unit groups These unit groups are aggregated into 130 minor groups 43 sub major groups and 10 major groups based on their similarity in terms of the skill level and skill specialisation required for the jobs This allows the production of relatively detailed internationally comparable data as well as summary information for only 10 groups at the highest level of aggregation Each group in the classification is designated by a title and code number and is associated with a definition that specifies the scope of the group The classification is divided into two volumes Volume I presents the structure and definitions of all groups in ISCO 08 and their correspondence with ISCO 88 which it supersedes while Volume II provides an updated and expanded index of occupational titles and associated ISCO 08 and ISCO 88 codes

Creech Blue James C. Slife, 2004 Colonel Slife chronicles the influence of the late Gen Wilbur L. Bill Creech a leader visionary warrior and mentor in the areas of equipment and tactics training organization and leader development His study serves both to explain the context of a turbulent time in our Air Force s history and to reveal where tomorrow s airmen may find answers to some of the difficult challenges facing them today Colonel Slife who addresses such controversial topics as the development of the Army s AirLand Battle doctrine and what it meant to airmen is among the first to describe what historians will surely see in years to come as the revolutionary developments of the late 1970s early 1980s and General Creech s central role Creech Blue enlightens the Air Force on its strongly held convictions during that period and challenges the idea that by 1990 when Iraq invaded Kuwait the Air Force had forgotten how to wage a strategic air campaign and was dangerously close to plunging into a costly and lengthy war of attrition had it not been for the vision of a small cadre of thinkers on the Air Staff In exploring the doctrine and language of the decade leading up to Operation Desert Storm Colonel Slife reveals that the Air Force was not as shortsighted as many people have argued the twentieth century the historic preservation community increasingly turned its attention to modern buildings including bungalows from the 1930s gas stations and diners from the 1940s and office buildings and architectural homes from the 1950s Conservation efforts however were often hampered by a lack of technical information about the products used in these structures and to fill this gap Twentieth Century Building Materials was developed by the U S Department of the Interior s National Park Service and first published in 1995 Now this invaluable guide is being reissued with a new preface by the book s original editor With more than 250 illustrations including a full color photographic essay the volume remains an indispensable reference on the history and conservation of modern building materials Thirty seven essays written by leading experts offer insights into the history manufacturing processes and uses of a wide range of materials including glass block aluminum plywood linoleum and gypsum board Readers will also learn about how these materials perform over time and discover valuable conservation and repair techniques Bibliographies and sources for further research complete the volume The book is intended for a wide range of conservation professionals including architects engineers conservators and material scientists engaged in the conservation of modern buildings as well as scholars in related disciplines
