Accounting For Life Insurance Companies:

Life Insurance Accounting Charles Ernest Mather, 1926 Accounting and Financial Reporting in Life and Health Insurance Companies Elizabeth A. Mulligan, Gene Stone, 1997 Provides a broad exposure to financial and managerial accounting in life and health insurance companies including the corporate and regulatory environment in which accounting functions occur Valuation of Indian Life Insurance Companies Prasanna Rajesh, 2019-09-05 This book bridges the gap between the accounting and the actuarial sides of Indian life insurance companies by exploring the relationships between the embedded value calculated by actuaries and the revenue account and balance sheet prepared by the accountants The author provides publicly available sources of information to place a value on the shares of Indian life insurance companies from an outsider's point of view Life insurance company accounts are complex and require knowledge of specific concepts in order to analyze and appreciate them This book will help a layperson with reasonable numerical abilities understand the calculation of the share price of a life insurance company In particular it will help analysts and accountants with no actuarial background understand the concepts of embedded and appraisal value Cash flow statements of these companies are often ignored and delegated to the background or usually to a single page in their annual reports This book examines the cash flows in detail and rearranges them to get a better picture of the financial health of the underlying companies It also explains the relationship between the different measures of profit such as cash reserves surplus profit after tax and embedded value Often this information is only available internally or to consultants The author uses alternative approaches based purely on public disclosures by these companies thereby enabling professionals without access to internal information to come to informed judgments about the actual performance of the companies IFRS 4 Insurance Contracts International Accounting Standards Board, 2004 Insurance Operations, Regulation, and Statutory Accounting Ann E. Myhr, 2003 Textbook for students of insurance that examines types of insurers regulation marketing the underwriting process ratemaking claims adjusting reinsurance financial management and strategic management Life Insurance Fact Book, 1959 The Property/casualty Insurance Industry Canada. Department of Finance, 1998 The Fair Value of Insurance Liabilities Irwin T. Vanderhoof, Edward Altman, 2013-04-17 This book explores theoretical and practical implications of reflecting the fair value of liabilities for insurance companies In addition the contributions discuss the disclosure of these values to the financial and regulatory communities and auditing firms which are actually calculating this illusive but important variable It combines contributions by distinguished practitioners from the insurance accounting and finance fields with those of prominent academics One of the central themes of the collection is that adequate disclosure of the true economic value of insurance company liabilities is both possible and desirable Wherever possible the insurance valuation process is wedded with modern financial theory For example the use of option pricing theory is applied to insurance companies where the true value of the firm's liabilities is a critical variable Methods such as cash flow earned profit and indirect discount are explored
