Emerging Technologies to Promote and Evaluate Physical Activity Dan J Graham, James Aaron Hipp, Simon Marshall, Jacqueline Kerr, 2014-10-23 Increasingly efforts to promote and measure physical activity are achieving greater precision greater ease of use and or greater scope by incorporating emerging technologies This is significant for physical activity promotion because more precise measurement will allow investigators to better understand where when and how physical activity is and is not occurring thus enabling more effective targeting of particular behavior settings Emerging technologies associated with the measurement and evaluation of physical activity are noteworthy because 1 Their ease of use and transferability can greatly increase external validity of measures and findings 2 Technologies can significantly increase the ability to analyze patterns 3 They can improve the ongoing systematic collection and analysis of public health surveillance due to real time capabilities associated with many emerging technologies 4 There is a need for research and papers about the cyberinfrastructure required to cope with big data multiple streams processing aggregation visualization etc and 5 Increasingly blurred boundaries between measurement and intervention activity e g the quantified self self tracking movement may necessitate a reevaluation of the conventional scientific model for designing and evaluating these sorts of studies There have been many recent disparate advances related to this topic Advances such as crowdsourcing allow for input from large diverse audiences that can help to identify and improve infrastructure for activity e g large group identification of environmental features that are conducive or inhibiting to physical activity on a national and even global scale Technologies such as Global Positioning Systems GPS and accelerometry are now available in many mobile phones and can be used for identifying and promoting activity and also understanding naturalistically occurring activity SenseCam and other personal visual devices and mobile apps provide person point of view context to physical activity lifestyle and timing Further multiple sensor systems are enabling better identification of types of activities like stair climbing and jumping that could not previously be identified readily using objective measures like pedometers or accelerometers in isolation The ability of activity sensors to send data to remote servers allows for the incorporation of online technology e g employing an online social network as a source of inspiration or accountability to achieve physical activity goals and websites such as Stickk com enable individuals to make public contracts visible to other users and also incorporates financial incentives and disincentives in order to promote behaviors including physical activity In addition the increasing use of active gaming e g Wii XBox Kinect in homes schools and other venues further underscores the growing link between technology and physical activity Improvements in mathematical models and computer algorithms also allow greater capacity for classifying and evaluating physical activity improving consistency across research studies Emerging technologies in the promotion and evaluation of physical activity is a significant area of interest because of its ability to greatly increase the amount and quality of global recorded measurements of PA patterns and its potential to more effectively promote PA Emerging technologies related to physical activity build on our own and others interdisciplinary collaborations in employing technology to address public health challenges This research area is innovative in that it uses emerging resources including social media crowdsourcing and online gaming to better understand patterns of physical activity

In Defense of Housing Peter Marcuse, David Madden, 2024-08-27 In every major city in the world there is a housing crisis How did this happen and what can we do about it Everyone needs and deserves housing But today our homes are being transformed into commodities making the inequalities of the city ever more acute Profit has become more important than social need The poor are forced to pay more for worse housing Communities are faced with the violence of displacement and gentrification And the benefits of decent housing are only available for those who can afford it In Defense of Housing is the definitive statement on this crisis from leading urban planner Peter Marcuse and sociologist David Madden They look at the causes and consequences of the housing problem and detail the need for progressive alternatives The housing crisis cannot be solved by minor policy shifts they argue Rather the housing crisis has deep political and economic roots and therefore requires a radical response

Heretics and Heroes Thomas Cahill, 2013-10-29 The New York Times bestselling author of How the Irish Saved Civilization reveals how the innovations of the Renaissance and the Reformation changed the Western world Cahill is our king of popular historians The Dallas Morning News This was an age in which whole continents and peoples were discovered It was an era of sublime artistic and scientific adventure but also of newly powerful princes and armies and of unprecedented courage as thousands refused to bow their heads to the religious pieties of the past In these exquisitely written and lavishly illustrated pages Cahill illuminates as no one else can the great gift givers who shaped our history those who left us a world more varied and complex more awesome and delightful more beautiful and strong than the one they had found

China's Influence and American Interests Larry Diamond, Orville Schell, 2019-08-01 While Americans are generally aware of China's ambitions as a global economic and military superpower few understand just how deeply and assertively that country has already sought to influence American society As the authors of this volume write it is time for a wake up call In documenting the extent of Beijing's expanding influence operations inside the United States they aim to raise awareness of China's efforts to penetrate and sway a range of American institutions state and local governments academic institutions think tanks media and businesses And they highlight other aspects of the propagandistic discourse war waged by the Chinese government and Communist Party leaders that are less expected and more alarming such as their view of Chinese Americans as members of a worldwide Chinese diaspora that owes undefined allegiance to the so called Motherland Featuring ideas and policy proposals from leading China specialists China s Influence and American Interests argues that a successful future relationship requires a rebalancing toward greater transparency reciprocity and fairness Throughout the authors also strongly state the importance of avoiding casting aspersions on Chinese and on Chinese Americans who constitute a vital portion of American society But if the United States is to fare well in this increasingly adversarial relationship with China Americans must have a far better sense of that country s ambitions and methods than they do now

In the Interest of Others John S. Ahlquist,Margaret Levi,2013-09-08 A groundbreaking study of labor unions that advances a new theory of organizational leadership and governance In the Interest of Others develops a new theory of organizational leadership and governance to explain why some organizations expand their scope of action in ways that do not benefit their members directly John Ahlquist and Margaret Levi document eighty years of such activism by the International Longshore and Warehouse Union in the United States and the Waterside Workers Federation in Australia They systematically compare the ILWU and WWF to the Teamsters and the International Longshoremen s Association two American transport industry labor unions that actively discouraged the pursuit of political causes unrelated to their own economic interests Drawing on a wealth of original data Ahlquist and Levi show how activist organizations can profoundly transform the views of members about their political efficacy and the collective actions they are willing to contemplate They find that leaders who ask for support of projects without obvious material benefits must first demonstrate their ability to deliver the goods and services members expect These leaders must also build governance institutions that coordinate expectations about their objectives and the behavior of members In the Interest of Others reveals how activist labor unions expand the community of fate and provoke preferences that transcend the private interests of individual members Ahlquist and Levi then extend this logic to other membership organizations including religious groups political parties and the state itself
