A Grasshopper Named Scoot Charlotte Pearce, 2020-08-30 A story about a mother grasshopper and her son overcoming fears and a parent's love Scoot the Grasshopper refuses to jump His siblings make fun of him and his mother and father are at their wits end a grasshopper has to jump Scoot won't and no one knows why But Mother grasshopper is determined to help her son

Global Study on Homicide 2013 United Nations, 2014-06-15 The Global Study on Homicide 2013 is based on comprehensive data from more than 200 countries territories and examines and analyses patterns and trends in homicide at the global regional national and sub national levels Such analysis is fundamental to understanding the various factors and dynamics that drive homicide so that measures can be developed to reduce violent crime The Study provides a typology of homicide including homicide related to crime coexistence related homicide and socio political homicide The nature of crime in several countries emerging from conflict the role of various mechanisms in killing and the response of the criminal justice system to homicide are also analyzed A further chapter examines homicide at the sub national level and includes analysis at the city level for selected global cities

Economics of South African Townships Sandeep Mahajan, 2014-08-25 Countries everywhere are divided within into two distinct spatial realms one urban one rural Classic models of development predict faster growth in the urban sector causing rapid migration from rural areas to cities lifting average incomes in both places The situation in South Africa throws up an unconventional challenge The country has symptoms of a spatial realm that is not not rural not fully urban lying somewhat in limbo This is the realm of the country's townships and informal settlements T IS In many ways the townships and especially the informal settlements are similar to developing world slums although never was a slum formed with as much central planning and purpose as were some of the larger South African townships And yet there is something distinct about the T IS For one thing unlike most urban slums most T IS are geographically distant from urban economic centers Exacerbated by the near absence of an affordable public transport system this makes job seeking and other forms of economic integration prohibitively expensive Motivated by their uniqueness and their special place in South African economic and social life this study seeks to develop a systematic understanding of the structure of the township economy What emerges is a rich information base on the migration patterns to T IS changes in their demographic profiles their labor market characteristics and their access to public and financial services The study then look closely at Diepsloot a large township in the Johannesburg Metropolitan Area to bring out more vividly the economic realities and choices of township residents Given the current dichotomous urban structure modernizing the township economy and enabling its convergence with the much richer urban centers has the potential to unleash significant productivity gains Breaking out of the current low level equilibrium however will require a comprehensive and holistic policy agenda with significant complementarities among the major policy reforms While the study tells a rich and coherent story about development patterns in South African townships and points to some broad policy directions its research and analysis will generally need to be deepened before being translated into direct policy action Management Control Theory A.J. Berry, J. Broadbent, D.T. Otley, 2019-05-23 First published in 1998 this volume of readings provides an overview of the development of the study of Management Control theory over the past 35 years The period encompasses the publication of a major and seminal text by Anthony and Dearden in 1965 which acted as a touchstone in defining the range and scope of management control systems This laid management control s foundations in accounting based mechanisms of control an element which has been seen as both a strength and a constraint A good deal of work has followed providing both a development of the tradition as well as a critique In this volume we attempt to provide a range of readings which will illustrate the variety of possibilities that are available to researchers scholars and practitioners in the area The readings illustrate the view that sees control as goal directed and integrative They go on to explore the idea of control as adaption consider its relationship with social structure and survey the effects of the interplay between the organisation and the environment The essays included are not intended to lead the reader through a well ordered argument which concludes with a well reasoned view of how management control should be Instead it seeks to illustrate the many questions which have been posed but not answered and to open up agendas for future research Economic and Management Sciences, Grade 8

Marietjie Barnard, Angela Voges, Christine de Nobrega, 2013-07-11 Study master economic and management sciences grade 8 has been especially developed by an experienced author team for the Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statement CAPS This new and easy to use course helps learners to master essential content and skills in economic and management sciences

Municipal Finances Catherine D. Farvacque-Vitkovic, Mihaly Kopanyi, 2014-06-13 This book tells a fascinating story on municipal finances for local government practitioners with rich examples global practices and good and bad experiences the authors gained in decades of field work At Risk Piers Blaikie, Terry Cannon, Ian Davis, Ben Wisner, 2014-01-21 The term natural disaster is often used to refer to natural events such as earthquakes hurricanes or floods However the phrase natural disaster suggests an uncritical acceptance of a deeply engrained ideological and cultural myth At Risk questions this myth and argues that extreme natural events are not disasters until a vulnerable group of people is exposed The updated new edition confronts a further ten years of ever more expensive and deadly disasters and discusses disaster not as an aberration but as a signal failure of mainstream development Two analytical models are provided as tools for understanding vulnerability One links remote and distant root causes to unsafe conditions in a progression of vulnerability The other uses the concepts of access and livelihood to understand why some households are more vulnerable than others Examining key natural events and incorporating strategies to create a safer world this revised edition is an important resource for those involved in the fields of environment and development studies Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book s chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education s present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

Economic and Management Sciences, Grade 9 Marietjie Barbard,Angela Voges,2015-05-29 The Multi-Agent Transport Simulation MATSim Andreas Horni,Kai Nagel,Kay W. Axhausen,2016-08-10 The MATSim Multi Agent Transport Simulation software project was started around 2006 with the goal of generating traffic and congestion patterns by following individual synthetic travelers through their daily or weekly activity programme It has since then evolved from a collection of stand alone C programs to an integrated Java based framework which is publicly hosted open source available automatically regression tested It is currently used by about 40 groups throughout the world This book takes stock of the current status The first part of the book gives an introduction to the most important concepts with the intention of enabling a potential user to set up and run basic simulations The second part of the book describes how the basic functionality can be extended for example by adding schedule based public transit electric or autonomous cars paratransit or within day replanning For each extension the text provides pointers to the additional documentation and to the code base It is also discussed how people with appropriate Java programming skills can write their own extensions and plug them into the MATSim core The project has started from the basic idea that traffic is a consequence of human behavior and thus humans and their behavior should be the starting point of all modelling and with the intuition that when simulations with 100 million particles are possible in computational physics then behavior oriented simulations with 10 million travelers should be possible in travel behavior research The initial implementations thus combined concepts from computational physics and complex adaptive systems with concepts from travel behavior research The third part of the book looks at theoretical concepts that are able to describe important aspects of the simulation system for example under certain conditions the code becomes a Monte Carlo engine sampling from a discrete choice model Another important aspect is the interpretation of the MATSim score as utility in the microeconomic sense opening up a connection to benefit cost analysis Finally the book collects use cases as they have been undertaken with MATSim All current users of MATSim were invited to submit their work and many followed with sometimes crisp and short and sometimes longer contributions always with pointers to additional references We hope that the book will become an invitation to explore to build and to extend agent based modeling of travel behavior from the stable and well

tested core of MATSim documented here Media Piracy in Emerging Economies Joe Karaganis, 2011 Media Piracy in Emerging Economies is the first independent large scale study of music film and software piracy in emerging economies with a focus on Brazil India Russia South Africa Mexico and Bolivia Based on three years of work by some thirty five researchers Media Piracy in Emerging Economies tells two overarching stories one tracing the explosive growth of piracy as digital technologies became cheap and ubiquitous around the world and another following the growth of industry lobbies that have reshaped laws and law enforcement around copyright protection The report argues that these efforts have largely failed and that the problem of piracy is better conceived as a failure of affordable access to media in legal markets Forest Pathology and Plant Health Matteo Garbelotto ,Paolo Gonthier, 2018-04-13 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Forest Pathology and Plant Health that was published in Forests Yes, Africa Can Punam Chuhan-Pole, Manka Angwafo, 2011-06-24 Takes an in depth look at twenty six economic and social development successes in Sub Saharan African countries and addresses how these countries have overcome major developmental challenges Study and Master Economic and Business Management Grade 7 for CAPS Learner's Book Marietjie Barnard, Angela Voges, Christine de Nobrega, 2013-07-11 Africa's Informal Workers Ilda Lindell, 2013-04-04 Africa's Informal Workers is a vigorous examination of the informalization and casualization of work which is changing livelihoods in Africa and beyond Gathering cases from nine countries and cities across sub Saharan Africa and from a range of sectors this volume goes beyond the usual focus on household coping strategies and individual agency addressing the growing number of collective organizations through which informal workers make themselves visible and articulate their demands and interests The emerging picture is that of a highly diverse landscape of organized actors providing grounds for tension but also opportunities for alliance The collection examines attempts at organizing across the formal informal work spheres and explores the novel trend of transnational organizing by informal workers Part of the ground breaking Africa Now series Africa's Informal Workers is a timely exploration of deep ongoing economic political and social transformations Noncognitive Skills, Occupational Attainment, and Relative Wages Deborah A. Cobb-Clark, Michelle Tan, 2009 Public Interest Litigation in South Africa Jason Brickhill, 2018-08-31 Public Interest Litigation in South Africa offers grounded accounts by leaders in the field of the campaigns cases and causes that have defined key areas of public interest litigation in the country since the constitutional transition The authors share their perspectives on the struggles led by people communities activists and civil society organisations to realise the vision of the Constitution The book shares the legal narratives of those particular struggles in the hope that this will contribute to the broader continuous struggle for social justice Part One of the book considers the history of public interest litigation the public interest sector today public interest litigation in the context of international law the ethics and politics of public interest litigation and procedure Part Two addresses public interest litigation in key areas of law property rights gender basic services health care LGBTI equality children's rights basic education freedom of expression access to information and prisoners rights Public Interest Litigation in South Africa seeks to share more of the stories of what has been achieved in the courts beyond the well trodden landmark appellate decisions as a contribution to informed and critical engagement
