Nicholas J. Goulden, Colin G. Steward

Accu Sterilizer As12 Vwr Scientific Manual:

Pediatric Hematology Nicholas J. Goulden, Colin G. Steward, 2008-02-01 Much of the progress in the diagnosis classification and treatment of childhood hematological disorders has come from a partnership between clinicians and scientists Indeed access to molecular techniques is now an integral part of the practice of modern pediatric hematology The aim of Pediatric Hematology Methods and Protocols is to provide a collection of scientific protocols that cover the major aspects of the discipline Most clinicians will be familiar with the difficulties inherent in establishing the underlying diagnosis in genetic marrow failure syndromes A particular concern is failure to diagnose those associated with DNA repair defects In Chapter 1 Dokal and colleagues present simple protocols for the molecular investigation of Fanconi anemia and dyskeratosis congenita Molecular diagnosis is also important in children with congenital pure red cell aplasia owing to the highly variable phenotype of this condition In Chapter 2 Ball describes relevant protocols for the investigation of Diamond Blackfan anemia Hereditary hemoglobinopathy is a major cause of death and morbidity throughout the world This area has seen great advances in screening and antenatal diagnosis In Chapter 3 Old details protocols for the molecular diagnosis of most forms of hemoglobinopathy High quality accurate molecular testing on small amounts of material has been fundamental to progress in antenatal diagnostics The introduction to his comprehensive chapter includes a discussion of the general principles that underpin these studies In contrast to hemoglobinopathy severe hemophilia is uncommon Hemoglobin Disorders Ronald L. Nagel, 2008-02-01 Hemoglobin and Hemoglobinologists This volume Hemoglobin Disorders Molecular Methods and Protocols will be introduced with a review of the great milestones in the field and the scientists responsible for those achievements The history of hemoglobin can be divided into three periods the Classical period the Modern period and the Post Modern period I am inclined to include as the four major members of the classical period Francis Roughton Quentin Gibson Jeffries Wyman and Linus Pauling not only because of their achievements but also because of the superb scientists they trained and or influenced Francis John Worsely Roughton 1899 1972 Fig 1 in his laboratory at Trinity College in Cambridge England made the first measurements of the rapid reaction of oxygen with hemoglobin at the millisecond scale at first by flow mixing methods and later by flash photolysis He not only opened an era of molecular research of hemoglobin but also invented the methodology for fast reactions through the use of laser technology which was later improved by others so that even faster reactions could be detected Another contribution of Roughton was the education of Quentin H Gibson Fig 2 his favorite student who in his laboratory in Sheffield continued to expand the horizon of ligand binding to hemoglobin defining the oxygen binding constants for each of the hemes of hemoglobin Though this did not as expected solve the underlying mechanism of ligand cooperativity as discussed below it was none the less an important milestone
