Collen,Marion J. Ball,2015-10-08 This is a meticulously detailed chronological record of significant events in the history of medical informatics and their impact on direct patient care and clinical research offering a representative sampling of published contributions to the field The History of Medical Informatics in the United States has been restructured within this new edition reflecting the transformation medical informatics has undergone in the years since 1990 The systems that were once exclusively institutionally driven hospital multihospital and outpatient information systems are today joined by systems that are driven by clinical subspecialties nursing pathology clinical laboratory pharmacy imaging and more At the core is the person not the clinician not the institution whose health all these systems are designed to serve A group of world renowned authors have joined forces with Dr Marion Ball to bring Dr Collen s incredible work to press These recognized leaders in medical informatics many of whom are recipients of the Morris F Collen Award in Medical Informatics and were friends of or mentored by Dr Collen carefully reviewed editing and updating his draft chapters This has resulted in the most thorough history of the subject imaginable and also provides readers with a roadmap for the subject well into later in the century

The Australian Official Journal of Trademarks ,1906 Statistics for Business and Economics David Ray Anderson,2006 Turn Down the Heat A Report for the World Bank by the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research and Analytics.,2013-06-19 This report focuses on the risks of climate change to development in Sub Saharan Africa South East Asia and South Asia Building on the 2012 report Turn Down the Heat Why a 4 C Warmer World Must be Avoided this new scientific analysis examines the likely impacts of present day 2 C and 4 C warming on agricultural production water resources and coastal vulnerability It finds many significant climate and development impacts are already being felt in some regions and that as warming increases from present day 0 8 C to 2 C and 4 C multiple threats of increasing extreme heat waves sea level rise more severe storms droughts and floods are expected to have further severe negative implications for the poorest and most vulnerable The report finds that agricultural yields will be affected across the three regions with repercussions for food security economic growth and poverty reduction In addition urban areas have been identified as new clusters of vulnerability with urban dwellers particularly the urban poor facing significant vulnerability to climate change In Sub Saharan Africa under 3 C global warming savannas are projected to decrease from their current levels to approximately one seventh of total land area and threaten pastoral livelihoods Under 4 C warming total hyper arid and arid areas are projected to expand by 10 percent In South East Asia under 2 C warming heat extremes that are virtually absent today would cover nearly 60-70 percent of total land area in northern hemisphere summer adversely impacting ecosystems Under 4°C warming rural populations would face mounting pressures from sea level rise increased tropical cyclone intensity storm surges saltwater intrusions and loss of marine ecosystem services In South Asia the potential sudden onset of disturbances to the monsoon system and rising peak temperatures would put water and food resources at severe risk Well before 2°C warming occurs substantial reductions in the frequency of low snow years is projected to cause substantial reductions in dry season flow threatening agriculture Many of the worst climate impacts could still be avoided by holding warming below 2°C but the window for action is closing rapidly Urgent action is also needed to build resilience to a rapidly warming world that will pose significant risks to agriculture water resources coastal infrastructure and human health
